SECTION V:

Additional submissions and/or requests:

Pre-emptive* Provisional Election of Restrictable Claims and/or Restrictable Species

In the event that the U.S. PTO deems a restriction requirement to be necessary and identifies two or more electable groups of claims and requires Applicant to elect one such group, Applicant hereby pre-emptively and provisionally elects, with traverse, the group which includes Claim 6.

In the event that the U.S. PTO deems an election among species to be necessary, and identifies two or more electable species or subspecies by pointing to respectively referenced items in the drawings, and requires Applicant to elect one of such identified species or subspecies, Applicant hereby pre-emptively and provisionally elects, with traverse, the species or subspecies which includes element 86 of Fig. 1C.

If neither of said election of claims or election of species is made a requirement by the U.S. PTO in its initial examination, then the above pre-emptive elections are to be treated as if they had not been made. If any of the above pre-emptive elections do not make sense given the context of the election requirements made by the U.S. PTO, then such a pre-emptive election by Applicant is to be deemed as not having been made.
